Last Updated Sunday, 06 January 2008

Frans Vermeulen graduated from teachers training college in 1970. He worked as a schoolteacher until 1978 and started studying homeopathy at Stichting Klassieke Homeopathie in Den Haag. He has been in practice since 1979.

Frans started to translate homeopathic books for work and pleasure. Between 1983 and 1996 he translated Kent, Allen, Hering, Boericke, Borland, Tyler, Vithoulkas, Voegeli, Whitmont, Miles, Morgan and Khler. In 1985 he wrote Kindertypes in Homoeopathie (Children's Types in Homoeopathy), based on his experiences as both a teacher and a homoeopath. In 1990 he was appointed managing director, teacher, and administrator of The School of Homeopathy in Holland. In 1992 he wrote Synoptic Materia Medica 1 which originally emerged from remedy summaries made for the students in Holland, Ireland and Finland. He followed this one up with the Concordant Materia Medica published in 1994. Followed by a second edition of the Concordant, including Hering's Guiding Symptoms in 1997; a third edition was printed in 2000. Out of his special interest in the small remedies, Frans wrote Synoptic Materia Medica 2. In the completely revised edition of Synoptic 1, entitled PRISMA MATERIA MEDICA, he introduces us to data from numerous non-homoeopathic sources as both reference material for the homoeopathic Materia Medica and as the source of potential symptoms. The significance and potential of such external data has been the subject of his numerous seminars in Europe, Israel and Australia. Related offerings:
